9. Rules for Determining a General Partnership.

Where a partnership is not registered, in determining whether a partnership does or does not exist, regard shall be had to the following rules—

- (c) the receipt by a person of a share of the profits of a business is prima facie evidence that he or she is a partner in the business, but the receipt of such a share, or of a payment contingent on or varying with the profits of a business, does not of itself make him or her a partner in the business; and in particular—

11. Power of Partner to Bind the Firm.

Every partner is an agent of the firm and his or her other partners for the purpose of the business of the partnership and the act of every partner binds the firm and his or her partners, unless the partner, in so acting—

15. Liability of Partners.

- (1) Every partner in a firm is liable jointly with the other partners for all debts and obligations of the firm incurred while he or she is a partner and a person who is admitted as a partner into an existing firm does not thereby become liable to the creditors of the firm for anything done before he or she became a partner; and after his or her death.

- (1) Any person who by words spoken or written or by conduct, represents himself or herself, or who knowingly suffers himself or herself to be represented as a partner in a particular firm, shall be liable as a partner, to anyone who has on the faith of any such representation, given credit to the firm, whether the representation has or has not been made or communicated to the person so giving credit by, or with the knowledge of the partner who represents himself or herself or allows to be represented.
- (2) Where, after a partner's death, the partnership business is continued in the old firm-name, the continued use of that name or of the deceased partner's name as part of the firm-name shall not of itself make his or her executors or administrators' estate or effects liable for any Partnership debts contracted after his or her death.

23. Admissions and Representations of Partners.

An admission or representation made by a partner concerning the partnership's affairs, and in the ordinary course of its business, may be evidence against the firm.

- (1) A person who is admitted as a partner into an existing firm does not thereby become liable to the creditors of the firm for anything done before he or she became a partner.

- (3) A retiring partner may be discharged from any existing liabilities by an agreement to that effect between himself or herself and the members of the firm as newly constituted and the creditors of the firm; and this agreement may be either express or inferred, as a fact, from the course of dealing between the creditors and the firm as newly constituted.

26. Revocation of Continuing Guarantee by Change in Firm.

A continuing guarantee or cautionary obligation given to a firm or to a third party in respect of the transactions of a firm is, in the absence of agreement to the contrary, revoked as to future transactions, by any change in the constitution of the firm to which, or in respect of whose transactions, the guarantee or obligation was given.

- (1) Where a partnership entered into for a fixed term is continued after the term has expired, and without any express new agreement, the rights and duties of the partners remain the same as they were at the expiration of the term, so far as is consistent with the incidents of a partnership at will.
- (2) A continuance of the business by the partners or such of them as habitually acted in the partnership during the term without any settlement or liquidation of the partnership affairs is presumed to be a continuance of the partnership.

Partners are bound to render true accounts and full information of all things affecting the partnership to any partner or his or her legal representative.

36. Accountability of Partners for Private Profits.

- (1) Every partner shall account to the firm for any benefit derived by him or her without the consent of the other partners from any transaction concerning the partnership, or from any use by him or her of the partnership property, name or business connection.

- (1) An assignment by any partner of his or her share in the partnership, either absolute or by way of mortgage or redeemable charge, does not, as against the other partners, entitle the assignee, during the continuance of the partnership, to interfere in the management or administration of the partnership business or affairs, but entitles the assignee only to require accounts of the partnership transactions, to inspect the partnership books, to receive the share of profits to which the assigning partner would otherwise be entitled.

- (2) In the case of a dissolution of the partnership, whether as respects all the partners or as respects the assigning partner, the assignee is entitled to receive the share of the partnership assets to which the assigning partner is entitled as between himself or herself and the other partners, and, for the purpose of ascertaining that share, to an account as from the date of the dissolution.

- (1) Subject to any agreement between the partners, a partnership is not dissolved by the death or insolvency of a partner.
- (2) A partnership may, at the option of the other partners, be dissolved if any partner suffers his or her share of the partnership property to be charged under this Act for his or her separate debt.

41. Dissolution for Illegality of Partnership.

A partnership is in every case dissolved by the occurrence of any event, which makes it unlawful for the business of the firm to be carried on or for the members of the firm to carry on in partnership.

42. Dissolution by the Court.

On application by a partner, the court may dissolve the partnership in any of the following cases—

- (a) where a partner is adjudged a lunatic, or is shown to the satisfaction of the court to be of permanently unsound mind, in either of which cases the application may be made as well on behalf of the partner by his or her guardian ad litem or next friend or person having title to intervene as by any other partner;
- (b) where a partner, other than the partner applying for dissolution, becomes in any other way permanently incapable of performing his or her part of the partnership contract;

- (1) Where a person deals with a firm after a change in its constitution, he or she is entitled to treat all apparent members of the old firm as still being members of the firm until he or she has notice of the change.

45. Continuing Authority of Partners for Purposes of Dissolution.

- (1) After the dissolution of a partnership, the authority for each partner to bind the firm, and the other rights and obligations of the partners, shall continue notwithstanding the dissolution, so far as may be necessary to wind up the affairs of the partnership, and to complete transactions begun but unfinished at the time of the dissolution, but not otherwise.
- (2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) above, the firm shall in no case be bound by the acts of a partner who has become insolvent; but this provision does not affect the liability of any person who has, after the insolvency, represented himself or herself or knowingly suffered himself or herself to be represented as a partner of the bankrupt.

46. Rights of Partners as to Application of Partnership Property.

On the dissolution of a partnership, every partner is entitled, as against the other partners in the firm, and all persons claiming through them in respect of their interests as partners, to have the property of the partnership applied in payment of the debts and liabilities of the firm, and to have the surplus assets after such payment applied in payment of what may be due to the partners respectively after deducting what may be due from them as partners to the firm; and for that purpose any partner or his or her representative may, on the termination of the partnership, apply to the court to wind up the business and affairs of the firm.

47. Apportionment of Premium Where Partnership Prematurely Dissolved.

Where one partner has paid a premium to another on entering into a partnership for a fixed term and the partnership is dissolved before the expiration of that term otherwise than by the death of a partner, the court may order the repayment of the premium, or of such part of the premium as it considers just, having regard to the terms of the Partnership contract and to the length of time during which the partnership has continued, unless—

- (a) the dissolution is, in the judgment of the court, wholly or mainly due to the misconduct of the partner who paid the premium; or
- (b) the partnership has been dissolved by an agreement containing no provision for a return of any part of the premium.

48. Rights Where Partnership Dissolved for Fraud or Misrepresentation.

Where a Partnership contract is rescinded on the ground of fraud or misrepresentation by one of the parties thereto, the party entitled to rescind, subject to an order of court and without prejudice to any other right, entitled to—

- (c) be indemnified against all the debts and liabilities of the firm by the person liable of the fraud or misrepresentation.

49. Right of Outgoing Partner After Dissolution.

- (1) Where any member of a firm has died or otherwise ceased to be a partner, and the surviving or continuing partners carry on the business of the firm with its capital or assets without any final settlement of accounts as between the firm and the outgoing partner or his or her heir, then, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, the outgoing partner or his or her heir shall be entitled at his or her option or at the option of his or her representatives to such share of the profits made since the dissolution as the court may find to be attributable to the use of his or her share of the partnership assets, or to an agreed rate of interest on the amount of his or her share of the partnership assets.

- (2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) above, where, by the partnership agreement, an option is given to surviving or continuing partners to purchase the interest of a deceased or outgoing partner, and that option is duly exercised and the consideration for the interest is paid, the estate of the deceased partner or the outgoing partner or his or her heir, as the case may be, shall not be entitled to any further or other share of profits.
- (3) Where a partner assuming to act in exercise of the option in subsection (2) above, does not in all material respects comply with the terms of the agreement, he or she shall be liable to account under this section.

50. Retiring or Deceased Partner's Share.

Subject to any agreement between the parties, the amount due from surviving or continuing partners to an out-going partner or the representatives of a deceased partner in respect of the outgoing or deceased partner's share shall be a debt accruing to the outgoing partner or his or her representative at the date of the dissolution or death.

51. Distribution of Assets on Final Settlement of Accounts.

In settling accounts between the partners after dissolution of a partnership, the following rules shall, subject to any agreement, be observed—
