

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

2006-07

Unless otherwise specified, courses numbered from 1 through 99 are primarily for first- and second-year undergraduates; courses numbered from 100 through 199 are for third- and fourth-year undergraduates; and those from 200 through 699 are for graduate students.

Amendments to course offerings announced in the Stanford Bulletin are found in the Time Schedule of Classes, issued quarterly.

Beginning in Autumn Quarter 2005, a modified and redefined set of undergraduate General Education Requirements, designated in this bulletin as GERs, went into effect. These requirements are described on pages 21-22 of this bulletin. All undergraduates who matriculated after Autumn Quarter 1996 are now subject to the set of GERs outlined in this bulletin. Undergraduates who matriculated prior to Autumn Quarter 1996 should consult the Office of the University Registrar for information about which requirement set applies to them. Graduate students should ignore GERs since these requirements do not apply to them.

SUMMER SESSION

Summer session courses are eight weeks in length, except in certain departments that offer ten-week courses.

This bulletin includes, for the Summer Session, only those courses that can be tentatively scheduled at publication time by each department. For the complete list of courses and faculty, refer to <http://summer.stanford.edu>, updated in February.

SUBJECT CODES

Throughout the bulletin, Aclass subject codes have been printed wherever relevant. A complete list of subject codes is printed in the Appendix on the last page of this bulletin.

COGNATE COURSES

Beginning this year, many departments are publishing lists of cognate courses. Cognate courses refer to offerings in other departments and programs which may be used to fulfill some major, minor, or honors program requirement. Students must consult the degree requirements section of their department or program, or the department or program's student services office, to determine the applicability of a given cognate course to a major, minor, or honors program.

LANGUAGE COURSES

All courses in language instruction, except classes in Latin, classical Greek, classical Chinese, and classical Japanese, are listed in the "Language Center" section of this bulletin. Foreign language literature and general interest courses are listed in the sections of the relevant department.

TIME SCHEDULE OF CLASSES

Each quarter, the Office of the University Registrar produces a printed Time Schedule of Classes. Changes to course listings made subsequent to the printing of this bulletin are reflected in this publication. Students should consult Aclass at <http://aclass.stanford.edu> for the most up-to-date class scheduling information.
