COMMUNITY SERVICES DEPARTMENT NEWS

HIGHLIGHTS THIS WEEK

Walk, Explore, Enjoy!

Fulfill that New Year's resolution to walk more with our public art self-guided tour maps! To help you discover public art treasures around Mitchell Park, we created a Public Art Map providing locations and descriptions of seven artworks throughout the park.

Or, take a self-guided tour of Anthony Disenza's temporary public art project, Questions About Your City. Download the map of all twenty art locations to explore the provocative, signage-based artworks installed throughout downtown Palo Alto. Each sign poses questions about issues affecting the Palo Alto community.

Capture Body Movement in Our Drawing Group

Drawing the figure in motion is not always easy,

Make a Resolution to Explore Palo Alto's Open Spaces This Year!

Did you know that Palo Alto has almost 4,000 acres but you'll have the chance to practice your skills during this informal drop-in class on Sunday afternoons, from 1pm-4 pm. This is an opportunity to work independently in the company of other artists, with no formal instruction given. Attendees are asked to bring their own supplies and payment is made to the group coordinator.

of open space to explore, recreate and relax in? If you want to get more fresh air this year, the open space preserves are a great place to start. Whether you are looking for a place to picnic with your family, a site for a wedding, or trails that will help you to escape to nature, there is a broad assortment of open space areas to enjoy!

To help plan your visits, check out the Interactive Parks map!
