Attorney General Holder Recognizes Office for Victims of Crime Employees at Annual Awards Ceremony
