

Stanford's Myotonic Dystrophy Information Meeting

Saturday, January 30, 2016 9am-4pm

Research Updates | Advocacy | DME | Best Care Practices

In conjunction with the Neuromuscular Program at UC Davis, the Stanford Neuromuscular Program is excited to bring together the top Myotonic Dystrophy specialists to speak on issues affecting those living with DM1 and DM2, their caregivers and family members. There will be Q&A sessions with the experts about topics such as GI, diet, cardiac issues, sleep, cutting edge research and much more. There will be small group, roundtable discussions and opportunities to network with others. Lunch will be provided at this community event. Pre-registration is required to attend Stanford's 3rd Annual Myotonic Dystrophy Information meeting.
