File /afs/slac.stanford.edu/www/archive/1995/SLACVM/www/191/r13337/README

On 21 Jul 1998 restored currently existing backup copy #97 (on tape cartridge RL3337) of userid MWM mindisk 191 via the CMS RECOVER command to WINTERS virtual reader, and from there to WINTERS 292 (a SPACE TEMPDISK) using a "RECEIVE (OLDDATE)" command within RDRLIST. The VM backup tape was taken 1/3/95.

Then copied all the RECOVERED files plus five files on the recovery and migration process from SLACVM to UNIX. Used an NFS mount?? in UNIX of the SLACVM WINTERS 292 mindisk, followed by a UNIX copy of all those files to the subdirectory /afs/slac.stanford.edu/www/archive/1995/SLACVM/www/191/r13337. (A summary of UNIX commands is in file unix-commands.)

MWM 191 is the proto-production mindisk for basic MWM code in SLACVM. Note that other code at least came to reside on the SLACVM Udisk and on the MWM 192 and MWMTEST 191 and 192 mindisks. MWM 191 is not an "INSTALL" disk.

More specifically, from the CMS RECOVER list of backup tapes on 7/21/98 selected:

97) MWM 0191 dumped to file 3 of tape RL3337 on 01/03/95 at 13:49:21

See file mwm191.backup for the entire list of currently existing backups (created from XSHOW capture of RECOVER command output). Note that I named earlier files like this that contained a backup list e.g., mwm.191. The new format is intended to make the origin of the information immediately clear.

RECOVER submitted VM batch job JCM117 from userid WINTERS on 7/21/98. The job was run shortly afterwards. Its batch console output is in file winters.jcm117.

There were a total of 9 files on the SLACVM MWM 191 mindisk of 1/3/95. In inverse chronological order since last update, here are the files (from "FILELIST (STATS" command output*):

Filename	Filetype	Fm Format	LRCL	Records	Blocks	Date	Time	Label
LASTING	GLOBALV	A0 V		32	4	1 1/03/95	10:07:49	SPC2
PROFILE	EXEC	A2 V		65	15	1 12/22/94	10:35:03	SPC2
HTDAEMON	NEWMOD	A1 V	65535	6	41	11/02/94	11:03:30	SPC2
RUNDAEMON	EXEC	A1 V	65	42	1	10/10/94	16:07:12	SPC2
HTDAEMON	MODULE	A1 V	65535	6	41	10/06/94	12:33:23	SPC2
RUNDTST	EXEC	A1 V	65	50	1	9/22/94	9:33:28	SPC2
RUNDISC	EXEC	A1 V	15	3	1	6/08/94	17:57:58	SPC2
TOPDRAM	AID	A1 V	29	1	1	6/08/94	17:57:58	SPC2
MWM	DIRECT	A0 F	80	17	1	6/08/94	17:57:58	SPC2

The MWM 191 mindisk contained code that was accessed via the default port: 80.

* As defined in "HELP CMS FILELIST", the STATS option produces the following output:

STATS

Lists the following information about the specified files:

- o File identifier or directory identifier
- o Format and logical record length of the file
- o Number of records and number of blocks in the file
- o Date and time of last update.

See the "Examples" for a sample display using the STATS option.

To find fairly often the author(s) of one of these executable files:

- o Look in comments near the top (or bottom) for an EXEC's "owner", the person(s) with primary responsibility for the file at the time the file was created or most recently updated before this backup was made.

For a list of all the files recovered plus three files created related to the recovery plus a record of the WINTERS CMS environment in which the recovery occurred (in file CMS PRESERVE), see winters.filelist (created by SAVING the output of a FILELIST command). A list of all the files on the backup tape (which seems to be the same as all the files recovered) is in the batch job output winters.job117.

For a list of all the files moved to UNIX (which should include all the files in the winters.filelist file), see winters.ls (which also lists the unix-commands file, plus).

In summary, for more details about the recovery from VM backup and move from SLACVM to SLAC UNIX, see the following files:

README [created in SLACVM about entire migration, named README RL3337] cms.preserve ww191.backup

winters.job117
winters.filelist

unix-commands [created in UNIX] winters.ls

See also files in subdirectory /afs/slac/www/archive/SLACVM for generally applicable information.

Restored currently existing copy #63 via CMS RECOVER command from the first-of-the-year VM backup tape taken 1/3/95 for userid WWW mindisk 192. This is the "production" mindisk for WWW pages in SLACVM.

From the CMS RECOVER list of backup tapes 6/15/98 (in file www.192), selected:

63) WWW 0192 dumped to file 82 of tape RL2989 on 01/03/95 at 19:19:40

RECOVER submitted a VM batch job 6/15/98, which was run shortly afterwards. Its console output is in file winters.jcw104.

Of a total of 536 files on the SLACVM WWW 192 mindisk then, 122 were "production" pages (i.e., named either /HTML/ or /INDEX/ where the slashes [/] delimit strings). In inverse chronological order of last update, these are (from FILELIST command output):

* Except the entire MWM system may still have been experimental. Using the word "production" here is to distinguish from "test".

For a list of all the files recovered plus three files created related to the recovery plus a record of the WINTERS CMS environment in which the recovery occurred (in CMS PRESERVE), see winters.filelist. A list of all the files on the backup tape (which should be the same as all the files recovered) is in the batch job output winters.jcwl04.

For a VM spooled console of actions to recover the 01/03/95 MWM 192 backup from tape RL2989 to VM mindisk (WINTERS 292 SPACE TEMPDISK) plus some HELP command output on related commands, see file rl2989.console.

For the basic commands with an extract of their output necessary to copy the files from SLACVM into this subdirectory in UNIX, see file unix-commands.

N.B.: By January 1995, a number of "production" pages had already been moved from SLACVM to UNIX or they'd been created originally in UNIX so this restoration from VM backup tape gives an incomplete picture of SLAC's web at the time. Unfortunately, UNIX backups were kept for a much shorter time (a year?) than SLACVM backups and most have been lost. A few individual files or subdirectories, mostly near the center of the web or relating to web procedures, were copied into /afs/slac/www/archive/1995 space as people thought about preserving them.

Joan M. Winters

Note README RL2989 on SLACVM is named README here in the /afs/slac.stanford.edu/www/archive/1995/SLACVM/www/192/rl2989/ subdirectory. I've just renamed rl1989.console in this same subdir to slacvm.console to set context and distinguish from the context of the unix-commands file.

For further information about the recovery from VM backup and move from SLACVM to SLAC UNIX, see the following files:

slacvm.console

ww.192

winters.jcw104

winters.filelist

unix-commands

Contents are described above.

See also files in subdirectory /afs/slac/www/archive/SLACVM for generally applicable information.

file /afs/slac.stanford.edu/www/archive/1995/SLACVM/mwtest/192/r12989/README

On 12 Jul 1998 restored currently existing backup copy #22 (on tape cartridge RL2989) of userid MWWTEST mindisk 192 via the CMS RECOVER command to WINTERS virtual reader, and from there to WINTERS 295 (a SPACE (TEMPDISK) using a "RECEIVE / (OLDDATE" command within RDRLIST. The VM backup tape was taken 1/3/95.

Then copied all the RECOVERED files plus five files on the recovery UNIX of the SLACVM WINTERS 295 mindisk, followed by a UNIX copy of all those files to the subdirectory /afs/slac.stanford.edu/www/archive/1995/SLACVM/mwtest/192/r12989. (A summary of UNIX commands is in file unix-commands.)

MWWTEST 192 is the public "test" mindisk for MWW pages in SLACVM. At this time the entire MWW system was starting to evolve from an experimental system at SLAC to a production one. Quite a number of pages had migrated from SLACVM to UNIX in 1994 or had started out there. Just about all the rest except a number of SPIRES pages migrated in 1995.

More specifically, from the CMS RECOVER list of backup tapes on 7/11/98 I selected:

22) MWWTEST 0192 dumped to file 131 of tape RL2989 on 01/03/95 at 19:29:20

See file mwtest192.backup (named WTEST192 BACKUP in VM due to the eight-character filename and filetype limitation) for the entire list of currently existing backups (created from XSHOW capture of RECOVER command output). Note that I named earlier files like this that contain a list of the currently existing backup tapes, e.g., mwtest.192. The new name format is intended to make the origin of the information immediately clear.

RECOVER submitted VM batch job JCW116 from userid WINTERS on 7/12/98. The job was run shortly afterwards. Its batch console output is in file winters.jcw116.

Of a total of 343 files on the SLACVM MWWTEST 192 mindisk of 1/3/95, 51 were user-visible "test"* pages (i.e., named either / HTML/ or / INDEX/ where the slashes [/] delimit strings). The rest were user-visible "test" executable or miscellaneous files including INSTALL files about the contents of the mindisk (see below), or older versions of test files. In inverse chronological order since last update, the test pages (from "FILELIST (STATS", then "ALT / HTML/ | / INDEX/" command output+) are:

* The MWWTEST mindisk only contained a subset of the entire proto-production SLAC Web pages on SLACVM, the subset that was actively being changed and tested (or sometimes fossils no one had bothered to erase). These pages were generally used by GIMELING (or LINKING and ACCESSING) the MWWTEST 192 mindisk ahead of the "production" MWW 192 mindisk in CMS search order so that the test pages displayed, when available, instead of proto-production ones. If no test pages of given names existed, then the proto-production ones on the MWW 192 mindisk displayed. Note that WIS HTML A0 has a strange mode for its filetype and was not generally user-visible.

+ As defined in "HELP CMS FILELIST", the STATS option produces the following output:

STATS

lists the following information about the specified files:

- o File identifier or directory identifier
- o Format and logical record length of the file
- o Number of records and number of blocks in the file
- o Date and time of last update.

See the "Examples" for a sample display using the STATS option.

To find, almost always, the author(s) of a file:

- 1) Look near the bottom (or top) for the file's "owner", the person(s) with primary responsibility for the page at the time the page was most recently updated before this backup was made. It appears as if the /owner script that accessed SPIRES BINLIST for addressing information was just starting to be used.

- 2) Look in the file MWMTEST OWNERS for the filename and filetype, e.g., SLAC HTML. The name(s) to the right are the userid(s) of the owner(s) with the primary owner first.

- 3) Look in the file MWMTEST HISTORY for an entry each time a file of a given name was modified. This includes when it was "owned", created, replaced, reverted, or erased. Note that in some cases the content of a particular filename may change significantly over time, e.g., GRABAG HTML, which shed various parts to new pages like VENDORS HTML and LOCRES HTML as the parts grew.

- 4) For a number of pages, updates were logged via HTML comments at the end of the file, e.g., SLAC HTML and MWMINTRO HTML.

Sources 2 and 3 result from MWMTEST 192 being a SLAC "INSTALL" mindisk. Occasionally, especially in the early days, a generic userid like MWM or MWMTEST was used to INSTALL a file.

In addition, 23 were user-visible, test executable files (i.e., named / EXEC/ or / MODULE/ where the slashes [/] delimit a string), to wit:

Files with filetype HELP were linked by web pages. Files with filename WMMTEST were used by the INSTALL process. SLAC XBM was the first graphical image of the SLAC seal used as an icon to quickly identify the SLAC Home Page (and perhaps others). Files with filetype PS were Postscript files.

For a list of all the files recovered plus four files created related to the recovery plus a record of the WINTERS CMS environment in which at least part of the recovery occurred (in file CMS PRESERVE), see winters.filelist (created by SAVING the output of a FILELIST command). A list of all the files on the backup tape (which at 343 seems the same as all the files recovered) is in the batch job output winters.jcwl16.

For a list of all the files moved to UNIX (which should include all the files in the winters.filelist file), see winters.ls (which also lists the unix-commands file, plus).

In summary, for more details about the recovery from VM backup and move from SLACVM to SLAC UNIX, see the following files:

README [created in SLACVM about entire migration, named README RL2989WT] cms.preserve

See also files in subdirectory /afs/slac/www/archive/SLACVM for generally applicable information, e.g., information about SLAC's INSTALL model and command including the meaning of the files with [n]@filetype.
