I think it went well. Fisher wants to meet with Potter in another four weeks or so. Roger Kodat seemed particularly pleased that we value the services of the Federal Financing Bank. I told him there was a lot of heavy lifting on both sides, but we managed to find the common ground and establish a sound working relationship. Hopefully, he'll give Pete credit where credit is due!

We did not discuss anything even mildly controversial, with the exception of Enron, which Fisher initiated.
