

June 17, 2016: Fellows Awards at Western Society of Pediatric Cardiology meeting

Division of Pediatric Cardiology fellows Kenneth Mah, MD, MS and Andrew Koth, MD received awards for abstracts describing their clinical research at the 27th Annual Western Society of Pediatric Cardiology (WSOPC) Conference, held in Park City, Utah on May 13-15, 2016.

Kenneth Mah's abstract entitled "Fluid Overload Independent of Acute Kidney Injury Predicts Poor Outcomes in Infants Following Congenital Heart Surgery" was awarded first place in the competition, and Andrew Koth's abstract "Association of Age and Outcome After Bidirectional Cavopulmonary Anastomosis" was awarded second place. Andrew Shin, MD, Clinical Associate Professor of Pediatrics (Cardiology), was the primary mentor and senior author for both projects. Stephen Roth, MD, MPH, Professor of Pediatrics (Cardiology) and Chief of the Division of Pediatric Cardiology, is the President-Elect of the WSOPC.
