Please let us know how we can best serve you.

Organizational Structure

The Stanford University Department of Public Safety (SUDPS) provides safety, security, law enforcement, crime prevention, and emergency response services on Stanford's main campus (in unincorporated Santa Clara County) 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Public Safety's employees include sworn personnel holding the ranks of Deputy Sheriff, Sergeant, Lieutenant, and Chief, as well as non-sworn personnel including Civilian Supervisors, Community Service Officers, Public Safety Officers, Special Events Patrol, Foothills Personnel, and support staff.

SUDPS personnel provide public safety services during large scale sporting and political events; assist campus emergency preparedness efforts; and provide training and presentations on a variety of topics including: crime prevention, active shooter response, personal security and behavioral threat assessments.

The law enforcement division works closely and cooperatively with Federal, State, and local agencies on issues of mutual concern by sharing information and resources as needed. Any arrests or prosecution efforts stemming from activities occurring on campus are submitted to the Office of the Santa Clara County District Attorney, which possesses the legal authority to prosecute violations of the law.

Stanford University Deputy Sheriffs

Stanford Deputy Sheriffs derive their peace officer powers through a written memorandum of understanding between Stanford University and the Sheriff of Santa Clara County. While on duty, Stanford deputies have full law enforcement powers to make arrests, enforce all applicable Federal, State, and local laws, and provide any other law enforcement services pursuant to California Penal Code §830.6.

The training received by Stanford deputies meets California State standards for full-functioning Peace Officers. The training program includes 24 weeks of police academy training followed by a supervised in-field training program and continuous in-service, specialty, and advanced training designed to foster personal and professional growth.

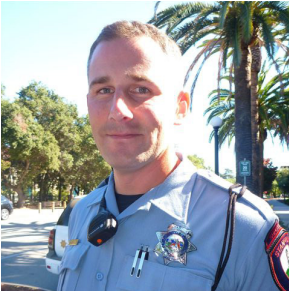

Opportunities for career advancement and enhanced professional skills include assignments in traffic, investigations, dignitary protection, self-defense, firearms training, and promotion to supervisory ranks.

Non-Sworn Uniformed Personnel

Civilian Supervisors are full-time personnel who supervise all uniformed non-sworn personnel including Community Service Officers, Public Safety Officers, Special Events Patrol, and Foothills Service Personnel assigned to parking enforcement, foothills management, and event safety and security.

Community Service Officers (CSOs) and Public Service Officers (PSOs) are full-time personnel who patrol the university by foot, bicycle, or motor vehicle to provide a safe and secure campus environment by performing security, parking enforcement, and traffic control. CSOs serve as leads.

Special Events Patrol (SEPs) are hourly, part-time personnel whose duties include: security, crowd management, and traffic control during special events and emergencies. Student Special Events Patrol (SSEPs) are Stanford student employees who perform similar duties as SEPs in addition to special projects.

Foothills Service Personnel (FSPs) greet and provide information to visitors at the Stanford Foothills. FSPs also report public safety needs and suspicious activity to first responders. The FSPs are located at the entrance of "The Dish," a conservation area which is visited by over 500,000 persons annually. Feel free to stop by and say hello!

The Police Station is located at 711 Serra Street, next to the Fire Station, at the corner of Campus Drive and Serra Street. The business phone number is (650) 723-9633. The business office is open Monday through Friday, from 8 am to 5 pm, excluding holidays.

Complaint / Feedback Procedure

SUDPS is committed to providing exceptional service, and we welcome feedback from the community to help us best serve the needs of the community. If you believe you have received less than acceptable service, we want to know about it. Feedback, including complaints about the conduct of Stanford Department of Public Safety personnel, may be offered:

- ▶ In person at the Police & Fire Facility at 711 Serra Street Monday through Friday, 8 am to 5 pm
- ▶ By mail to 711 Serra Street, Stanford, CA 94305
- ▶ By email to publicsafety@lists.stanford.edu
- ▶ By phone at (650) 723-9633

We will investigate service complaints and/or alleged misconduct by employees in a timely manner with fairness, neutrality, and impartiality. In the spirit of community partnership, we encourage mediation to resolve complaints. The Chief of Police will review all completed investigations and determine appropriate corrective measures. Complainants who file a formal complaint will be notified in writing about the outcome.

DPS Outreach & Education continued

Security and safety education and awareness programs are offered throughout the year.

Security and Safety Education & Awareness Presentations

Learn how to prevent crime, protect your property, enhance your personal safety, and guard against bicycle, laptop, and identity theft.

Security Vulnerability Assessment (SVA) Program

SUDPS offers free security vulnerability assessments of any building, lab, or facility on campus. The assessment entails a walk-through by our trained and certified personnel with the building or facility and/or zone manager. We will identify potential vulnerabilities or threats to occupants, valuables (e.g., personal items, laptops, chemicals, research, etc.), and of the building itself.

Office Security Education Program (OSEP)

Academic offices and labs are targets for computer, equipment, and personal property thefts. Most thefts are crimes of opportunity made possible by unlocked facilities and offices, leaving valuables exposed and unattended or unsecured, and inattention by building, lab, and office occupants. In an effort to educate staff and students about proper security and to reduce thefts, SUDPS personnel will work with the building and/or zone managers to periodically conduct unannounced security surveys of University-operated facilities and provide suggestions for improving security. The results are reported to the building and/or zone manager to educate and increase awareness by the building occupants on building security.

Volunteer Opportunities

Stanford Emergency Medical Service

(StEMS) is a student led volunteer organization comprised of certified Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT-Basics) who provide non-transport basic life support (BLS) standby medical services at campus events, including large parties and football games. In addition to trauma equipment, each team carries oxygen and an automated external defibrillator (AED). During a large-scale disaster, StEMS will support the campus response effort by assisting with medical care. Find information about services and membership at: <http://stems.stanford.edu>.

Stanford Community Emergency Response Team

(SCERT) is composed of staff members who are able and willing to assist with post-disaster response. The program is jointly managed by Public Safety and Environmental Health & Safety. Training follows the Citizen Corps Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) model supplemented with additional information about emergency response on the Stanford campus. Initial certification requires successful completion of a 20-hour course that combines lecture with hands-on practice. Advanced training and skill refresher opportunities are offered throughout the year. Learn more at: <http://scert.stanford.edu>.

Building Assessment Team (BAT) staff and faculty volunteers train with the ATC 20-1, Field Manual: Postearthquake Safety Evaluation of Buildings to evaluate earthquake damage to building exteriors and are authorized to post preliminary safety signs on buildings based on their observations prior to determinations by the University's structural engineers. For more information about this and other emergency preparedness programs at Stanford, call (650) 723-0448 or visit: <http://ehs.stanford.edu/general/erprep>.

Emergency Communications

Report / Get Help

The community is encouraged to report crimes, fires, suspicious activity, requests for medical assistance, and other public safety related incidents immediately.

Call 9-1-1 when you experience or observe:

- A whistle, scream, or call for help
- Any crime in progress or that has occurred
- Suspicious behavior or activity including:
 - A car repeatedly driving up and down the street
 - Someone entering a room, home, office, or lab without apparent legitimate purpose
 - Someone lurking around a parking lot, bike racks, or a building

For immediate police, fire, or medical response:

Dial 9-1-1 from any non-university phone or cell phone. Calling 9-1-1 from a pay phone is free.

Dial 9-9-1-1 from any Stanford University phone.

Press the red button to activate a blue 911 emergency tower to directly connect with a police dispatcher. Activating a tower will also activate a blue strobe light on the top of the tower to alert others, including response personnel, of your location. There are 145 blue emergency towers located throughout the Stanford campus. All calls will be responded to and investigated by a deputy.

Blue Tower Locations:

http://maps.stanford.edu/sites/all/lbre-shared/files/maps/files/shared/file/maps_records/Suggested_Travel_Routes_Map.pdf

The Stanford University Fire Marshal's Office strongly encourages the community to call 9-1-1 to report a fire even if it has already been extinguished.

Provide the dispatcher with a description of the incident type, location, time of occurrence, any injuries, weapons involved, the suspect (e.g., gender, height, complexion, attire) and associated vehicles (e.g., license plate, make, color, and direction of travel).

For a non-emergency response on campus, dial:

- (650) 723-9633 during normal business hours
- (650) 329-2413 during evening hours, weekends, and holidays

Get Information

Mass notification systems use a variety of technologies to deliver emergency alerts and information to the campus community.

Emergency Notification

The Stanford University Chief of Police (or her designee) or other Senior University Officials will, without delay, utilize the emergency notification system to issue an immediate notification to the campus community upon first responder* confirmation of any emergency or dangerous situation that poses an ongoing or continuing threat to the health or safety of the campus community. The nature of the incident will determine which of the following methods will be employed:

- AlertSU mass notification system via voicemail, e-mail, and/or text message
- AlertSU outdoor warning system composed of 7 sirens positioned throughout main campus that emit alert tones and verbal instruction
- Stanford Public Safety website <http://police.stanford.edu>
- Stanford Emergency website <http://emergency.stanford.edu>
- Radio station KZSU 90.1 FM
- Campus & local newspapers
- E-mail lists to Residential & Dining Enterprises, Residential Education, University Departments, and/or Schools

* First responders may include DPS, PAFD, and/or experts from EH&S.

The notification will be sent to all students, faculty, and staff in the Stanford community (or an appropriate segment of the community if the event is limited to a defined area of the campus) using the AlertSU system unless issuance of the notification will, in the professional judgment of responsible authorities, compromise efforts to assist a victim or contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency. The content of the message will vary dependent on the situation, but will typically include the incident time, location, type, and recommended actions for safety.

Individuals authorized to initiate an AlertSU message include the University President and the Provost (or designee), the General Counsel, the Chief of Police (or on-scene SUDPS Incident Commander or designee), the Associate Vice-Provost for Environmental Health & Safety, the Vice President for Public Affairs, the University Emergency Manager, the Director of the Stanford News Service, the Associate Director of Stanford News Service, and the Executive Director of IT Services.

The AlertSU system will be activated on a case-by-case basis.

In the event of a major emergency affecting the campus, a warning will be issued using any combination of the systems available for emergency notification. If the telephone notification system is activated, a message will be sent to the telephone number Stanford faculty, staff and students have registered in the Stanford directory (via StanfordYou or Axess). If the e-mail notification system is activated, the message will be sent to Stanford e-mail accounts or other accounts as indicated by the settings in one's personal profile entered into StanfordYou or Axess. If the siren alert system is activated, a tone will be emitted from one or all of the seven emergency towers located on campus. That tone indicates that there is an emergency and you should take measures for your personal safety and listen for further instructions.

Follow the directions of AlertSU messages unless doing so will place you in greater danger. AlertSU warnings are intended to support decisions for personal safety. When you become aware of a warning, make sure others around you are also aware of the potential danger.

DO NOT respond to the scene of an emergency unless directed to do so. In addition to the possibility of becoming injured, your presence could interfere with the work of emergency response personnel.

As the emergency progresses, university emergency response personnel will utilize one or more of the following channels to post additional information:

- Public Safety website: <http://police.stanford.edu>
- Emergency website: <http://emergency.stanford.edu>
- Emergency information hotline: (650) 725-5555
- Out of area information hotline (US): 1-800-89SHAKE (74253)
 - From abroad: 01-602-241-6769
- Hospital Emergency Information Hotline: (650) 498-8888
- Radio: KZSU 90.1 FM
- Campus and local newspapers
- E-mail lists
- Other notification to University Departments and/or Schools
- University's Facebook or Twitter accounts

After an emergency, such as an earthquake, local telephone lines may have reduced capacity. Do not make calls immediately after an emergency unless it is to report a life safety situation, so that lines remain available for emergency services.

One way to stay in contact with your relatives after an emergency is to call an out-of-area telephone contact. Ask the out-of-area contact to call your relatives and friends for you so they will be aware that you are safe. Concerned parents, relatives, and friends can also call the information hotline numbers listed above for more information about emergencies in the Stanford area.

Emergency Evacuation

Emergency Evacuation plans and maps are posted in main entries, staircase landings, elevator landings, and lobbies within every building on campus. Additional plans/maps are posted inside student bedrooms. The evacuation plan provides a floor plan identifying the locations of all exits, fire extinguishers, fire alarm pull stations, emergency assembly points and fire extinguishers. The evacuation plans list instructions for response to a fire or an earthquake. Regularly scheduled drills, exercises, and appropriate follow-up activities designed for system assessment will be conducted each year by the University Fire Marshal.

Evacuation Procedures — General

Upon activation of the fire alarm system, all persons shall immediately evacuate the building and meet at the predetermined Emergency Assembly Point (EAP). At large outdoor venues, such as the Frost Amphitheater or the Stanford Stadium, proceed towards the nearest exit and follow any verbal directions provided by safety personnel or event management staff. While evacuating remain vigilant for dangerous or criminal activity and report such observations to the police as soon as possible.

Fire Evacuation Procedures — Student Residences

- ▶ Report the fire (even if the fire has been extinguished)
 - Use fire alarm pull boxes AND
 - Call 9-1-1 on a cell phone, or 9-911 from a university phone
- ▶ Confine the fire by closing doors
- ▶ Evacuate if safe to do so

Evacuation Procedures – University Buildings

- ▶ Familiarize yourself with the evacuation procedures for the building; locate the nearest exit and fire extinguishers.
- ▶ Visit the Emergency Assembly Point (EAP) for your building. Stanford EAPs are denoted by a symbol having a blue triangle enclosed in a white circle. Every building on campus has at least one assigned EAP. A map of all campus EAPs can be found at: <http://ehs.stanford.edu/general/erprep/eap>.
- ▶ If you smell smoke or detect a fire, activate the nearest alarm and call 9-911 / 911 from a safe location.

Promoting a Safe and Secure Campus Environment

violence in the workplace / on campus

Stanford University will not tolerate violence or threats of violence on campus or in connection with University events. All weapons, as defined by California Penal Code, are banned from University premises unless written permission is given by the Stanford Department of Public Safety.

Employees who violate this policy (or who bring false charges) will be subject to corrective action, including termination.

Students who violate this policy could be in violation of the Fundamental Standard and subject to disciplinary action ranging from a formal warning and community service to expulsion.

AdminGuide 2.2.11

Weapons on Campus

All weapons are prohibited on the Stanford Campus. Except for sworn law enforcement officials, it is a felony to bring or possess ANY firearm on any California school campus (§626.9 PC). It is also a felony to possess any air gun – including pellet and BB guns that utilize air, CO2, or spring pressure to propel a metallic projectile (§626.10 PC). Knives with a blade length of over 2.5 inches, dirks, daggers, and ice picks are also illegal. Individuals with Carry Concealed Weapon (CCW) permits may not carry a weapon on campus without written permission from the Chief of Police. SUDPS does not normally store weapons for convenience, but it will attempt to facilitate the temporary safekeeping of weapons until permanent arrangements can be made.

Violence Prevention

Education, communication, collaboration, resource coordination, and early intervention are the cornerstones of Stanford's violence prevention efforts. The single most important component of violence prevention is the timely communication of concerning behavior to the appropriate resources.

The University Threat Assessment Team

The University's Threat Assessment Team is comprised of key faculty and professional staff members who meet regularly to review best practices, current trends, and to consult about matters of immediate concern. The Threat Assessment Team's mission is to:

- Promote a safe work and campus environment
- Conduct educational outreach
- Encourage community members to consult with trained professionals when they observe behaviors that cause concern for either the safety of the community or the person exhibiting the concerning behavior

Threat Assessment Team members include representatives from:

Student Affairs, Public Safety, Counseling and Psychological Services \(CAPS\), Faculty and Staff Help Center, Ombuds, Human Resources \(University, Medical School, SLAC\), General Counsel, Risk Management, and other departments, depending on the situation.

Behavioral Threat Assessment

Violence is often preceded by behaviors that indicate an increasingly negative emotional state. Behaviors do not have to violate the law to be worrisome. The following behaviors have been associated with a heightened risk for violence or self-harm.¹ This list is not meant to be comprehensive. If you notice a change in someone's behavior that seems out of character, contact one of the resources listed on the University's Threat Assessment website: <http://safety.stanford.edu>.

¹These threatening behaviors have been adapted from a variety of sources including:

Deisinger, G., et al. The Handbook for Campus Threat Assessment Teams. Stoneham: Applied Risk Management, LLC, 2008. Print.

- Inability or unwillingness to abide by policies or rules
- Increase in alcohol or drug use

- Statements that support the use of violence to resolve issues
- Distancing oneself from family, friends, or peers (suddenly or gradually)
- Vandalism of property out of revenge
- Stalking
- Obsession with violence, guns, and weapons

Imminently Dangerous ► Call 911

- Statements or written communication about harming oneself or others, especially if specific plans are mentioned
- Acquisition of weapons in the context of concerning or alarming behaviors

Sexual Assault and Misconduct, Dating and Relationship Abuse, Stalking and Sexual Harassment

Stanford is committed to providing a place of work and study that is free of sexual and other forms of violence, sexual harassment and all forms of intimidation or exploitation. Relevant policies and the university resources which offer prevention, education and response services addressing these behaviors are listed in the pages that follow.

Consent

Consent is based on choice. It is informed, freely given, mutually understood, and based on respect and reciprocity. Consent requires an affirmative act or statement by each participant. If coercion, intimidation, threats or physical force are used, there is no consent. If a person is mentally or physically incapacitated or impaired so that they cannot understand the fact, nature or extent of the sexual situation, there is no consent. This includes incapacitation due to alcohol or drug consumption if a person is asleep or unconscious. Whether one has taken advantage of a position of influence over another may be a factor in determining consent.

For more information please visit: <http://studentaffairs.stanford.edu/sites/default/files/sara/SARA%20Office%20Consent%20Handout.pdf>.

Bystander Intervention

Bystanders play a critical role in the prevention of sexual and relationship violence. They are often the largest group of people involved — outnumbering both the perpetrators and the victims. Bystanders can have a range of involvement in assaults. A person or persons may be aware that a specific assault is happening or will happen, they may see an assault or potential assault in progress, or they may have knowledge that an assault has already occurred. Regardless of how close to the incident they are, bystanders have the power stop assaults and to get help for people who have been victimized.

For more information and bystander intervention strategies from The Office of Sexual Assault and Relationship Abuse Education and Response (SARA), please visit: <http://studentaffairs.stanford.edu/sites/default/files/sara/SARA%20Office%20Bystander%20Intervention.pdf>.

Relationship Abuse & Domestic Violence

relationship abuse

A pattern of abusive or coercive behaviors used to maintain power and control over a former or current intimate partner. Abuse can be emotional, psychological, financial, sexual, or physical, and can include threats, isolation, and intimidation.

Could you be in an abusive relationship?

- Are you afraid of your partner?
- Do you avoid certain topics of conversation out of fear it will anger your partner?
- Does your partner humiliate or belittle you?
- Does your partner have a bad and/or unpredictable temper?
- Does your partner destroy your belongings?
- Does your partner keep you from seeing friends or family?
- Does your partner seem unusually possessive or jealous?
- Does your partner force you to have sex?

If you answered “yes” to any of these questions — understand that you are not at fault! You deserve to be treated with dignity and respect — especially by your romantic partner. Emotional abuse is often a precursor to physical violence.

domestic violence

Broadly defined as physical or sexual assault and/or other threatening and abusive behavior including stalking, harassing, or destroying personal property perpetrated against a former or current intimate partner, relative, or person living in the same household.

call 911 if you have recently been threatened, hurt, or abused, or are being stalked by your current or former intimate partner.

Relationship Abuse & Domestic Violence — Resources

There are many resources for victims who are unsure what to do when dealing with domestic violence. One option is the criminal justice system. Do not be afraid to call the police if you have been abused. The goal of the police and legal system is to provide some measure of safety for victims of violence and to provide information about additional resources, such as temporary living accommodations if necessary.

One immediate alternative is to obtain a Temporary Restraining Order. If you have been recently threatened, hurt, or abused, or are being stalked by your current or former intimate partner, call 9-1-1 or 9-911 from a campus phone. Tell the dispatcher that you are in danger and that you need help immediately.

The police are required to write an incident report for all domestic violence calls, even if the batterer has already left the scene. Although it is best to make the report as soon as possible, you may call the police anytime, even days or months, after you have been abused. Alternatively, you can contact a domestic violence and dating violence hotline at any time.

In 2012, SARA provided outreach education to 1,786 incoming first year students, 100 students through 5 academic courses, and 300 students through student organizations. SARA also brought in speakers to lecture to 200 students and give a professional workshop on consent to 44 staff. The office also coordinated 2 webinars on Sexual Assault Response & Bystander Intervention for 16 professional staff and a 2-day training on Title IX investigations for 12 Stanford staff.

In addition to programming and education, the SARA office will provide services to students who have been sexually assaulted regardless of the location where the assault occurred.

Sexual Assault & Sexual Harassment

sexual assault

AdminGuide 2.2.5

The actual, attempted, or threatened commission of an unwanted sexual act that occurs without indication of consent by each individual, or that occurs under threat or coercion.

Sexual assault can occur either forcibly and/or against a person's will, or when a person is incapable of giving consent.

Under state and federal law, sexual assault includes but is not limited to:

- Rape
- Forcible fondling
- Forcible sodomy
- Forcible oral copulation
- Sexual assault with an object
- Sexual battery
- Threat of sexual assault

A person is legally incapable of giving consent if:

- Under 18 years of age
or
- Intoxicated by drugs and/or alcohol
or
- Developmentally disabled
or
- Temporarily or permanently mentally or physically unable to do so

In some cases, sexual assault may also constitute sexual harassment.

sexual harassment

AdminGuide 2.2.4

Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other visual, verbal, or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment when:

- ▶ It is implicitly or explicitly suggested that submission to or rejection of the conduct will be a factor in academic or employment decisions or evaluations, or permissions to participate in a University activity, OR
- ▶ The conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's academic or work performance by creating an intimidating or hostile academic, work, or student living environment

IF YOU HAVE BEEN SEXUALLY ASSAULTED:

Your immediate safety is the priority. Call 911 if you are in danger. Seek medical attention if you have been physically injured. See page 31 for information about obtaining a medical-legal exam.

The Stanford Department of Public Safety encourages individuals to report a sexual assault to the police having jurisdiction where the assault occurred. Additionally, victims are encouraged to seek guidance and support from professional resources.

Student Sexual Assault Survivor's Bill of Rights

Federal law entitles sexual assault victims to the following rights. The accuser and the accused have the same opportunity to have others present throughout disciplinary proceedings. Both parties shall be informed of the outcome of any disciplinary proceeding. Victims shall be informed of their options to notify law enforcement. Victims shall be notified of counseling services available on and off campus. Victims shall be notified of options for changing academic and living situations.

Sexual Assault & Sexual Harassment: Investigations & Resources

An allegation of sexual assault and/or sexual harassment that occurred on campus, at a university owned or operated facility off the main campus, or in conjunction with a university sponsored activity may be investigated by various departments including: a local police agency, the Sexual Harassment and Policy Office, the Office of Community Standards (for students) and the Title IX Office. The entity having jurisdiction or responsibility for conducting an investigation will depend, in part, on the relationship that the victim and the alleged perpetrator have to the university (i.e. faculty, staff, student, no affiliation). The type of investigation (administrative, disciplinary, or criminal) will depend on several factors including the entity conducting the investigation. Multiple investigations may take place. For assistance in determining one's reporting options, students should contact Rosa Gonzalez, Title IX Coordinator or the SARA Office; faculty and staff may contact the Sexual Harassment and Policy Office. The Stanford Department of Public Safety is also a resource for information, even if the assault took place off-campus.

Office of Community Standards

The Office of Community Standards \(OCS\) investigates allegations of violations of student misconduct, including allegations of sexual assault and sexual misconduct. Allegations of misconduct relating to sexual assault, sexual harassment, relationship violence or stalking proceed through the Alternative Review Process. OCS is the only university office that may enforce formal student discipline in response to such complaints. Generally, these investigations begin when the alleged victim brings forward a complaint to the Office of Community Standards (although investigations may also begin when requested by the Title IX Coordinator).

Sexual Harassment and Policy Office

The Sexual Harassment Policy Office \(SHPO\) provides services to faculty, staff and students. SHPO offers customized training programs about sexual harassment for faculty and staff at Stanford, including those in non-faculty teaching positions. SHPO staff will consult with individuals who have questions about sexual harassment. And, SHPO coordinates resources and acts as the liaison between the primary parties and those helping to resolve and address issues of sexual harassment. The Office provides support and resources for all persons involved in or working to resolve a situation, but does not advocate for any particular party.

Title IX at Stanford

Title IX prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in educational programs and activities receiving federal financial assistance. A Title IX investigation is an administrative procedure, not a disciplinary process. The purpose of a Title IX investigation is to determine: whether conduct prohibited by Title IX took place; whether there is an ongoing risk of harm for further prohibited conduct and if so, to take steps to prevent its recurrence; whether accommodations for the impacted party need to be put in place to redress the effects of prohibited conduct (such as putting a no contact order in place); whether accommodations or safety measures should be put in place to make the Stanford community safe; whether the conduct warrants review by the Office of Community Standards or other disciplinary procedure if such a review has not been initiated; and whether system-wide or local changes to policies, practices or training should be considered and implemented.

Police Investigation

Reporting a sexual assault to the police may seem intimidating but there is no need to be afraid. Law enforcement officers are trained to handle such situations with sensitivity and compassion. Reporting can help you regain a sense of personal power and control.

Stanford Public Safety's Guarantee to Sexual Assault Victims

If you believe you have been the victim of sexual assault on campus, the Stanford Department of Public Safety will guarantee the following:

- We will treat all persons with respect.
- A SUDPS deputy will meet with you privately at a time and place of your choice to take a report. You may bring a friend, family member, or other person with you.
- We will assist you in arranging for medical attention. (see p.31)
- We will offer you the services of a YWCA advocate trained in sexual assault. You may have your own advocate present at any stage of the process.
- We will fully investigate your case and keep you apprised of the progress. Please be aware that not revealing known identifying information about the alleged suspect will make it difficult for the police to conduct a full investigation.
- We will continue to be available to answer your questions, explain the system and the processes involved.

State law permits law enforcement to keep confidential the

- identity of the individual who was assaulted, when requested (California Penal Code §293).

Medical Attention & Legal Evidence Collection

For life threatening medical conditions, call 911 or go to the nearest Hospital Emergency Department.

Treatment for less serious injuries is available at:

Stanford Medical Center Emergency Department	(650) 723-5111
---	-----------------------

Vaden Health Center Students and their spouses / domestic partners only	(650) 498-2336

Your primary care physician

If the assault was recent, do not wash, shower, douche, or change (destroy or clean) the clothes you were wearing at the time of the assault. Not washing or changing clothes is important in order to preserve evidence. Also, try not to disturb the area where the assault occurred. For example, try to avoid washing sheets, blankets, and pillow cases.

If the assault occurred within the last 72 hours, you are encouraged to have a free medical-legal exam at the Santa Clara Valley Medical Center \(SCVMC\) in San Jose where staff are specially trained and prepared to collect evidence. For assistance in seeking such an exam, please contact:

YWCA	(650) 725-9955
Department of Public Safety	911 or (650) 723-9633
SCVMC SART Office	(408) 885-6466
SCVMC Emergency Department	(408) 885-5000

Please Note: Medical personnel are required by law to notify the appropriate law enforcement agency when treating injuries resulting from any violent criminal act. Seeking medical treatment or a medical-legal exam for evidence collection does not obligate the injured person to speak with police or file charges.

Sex Offender Registry

California law requires sex offenders who are employed, volunteer, are a resident of, or enrolled as a student at an institution of higher education, to register with the campus police. If you would like information concerning registered sex offenders in California, check the Megan's Law website at <http://www.meganslaw.ca.gov>. This database can be searched by name or geography.

Missing Person Procedure

If a person has not returned home, failed to appear for work or for an appointment as anticipated, or if there is a belief that something is suspicious about his or her absence, report the situation to law enforcement. You need not – and should not – wait 24+ hours to report a missing person. Anyone can file a missing person report. Campus Officials who become aware of a potentially missing student must report associated information immediately to the Stanford Police.

Pursuant to California Penal Code §14205(a), a law enforcement agency must take a missing person report without delay. When a report is filed with SUDPS, a complete and thorough investigation surrounding the incident will be conducted by the appropriate jurisdiction.

In compliance with federal law, during the University Registrar's annual online check-in procedure, students have the option to specify contact(s) to be notified in the event the police determine someone is a missing person. This contact information is kept confidential, and only accessible by authorized university officials for disclosure to law enforcement personnel during a missing person investigation.

Federal law also requires the University to inform students that an emergency contact will be notified within 24 hours of the person being determined as missing. For nonemancipated minors, a custodial parent or guardian will be notified in addition to any listed emergency contact(s).

Stanford may make additional notifications as necessary, and as provided for by FERPA, to resolve a safety emergency; including notifying parents or guardians, even when they were not specifically listed by a student as an emergency contact.

Detecting Suspicious Packages and Letters

Call 911 (or 9-911 from a campus phone) if you have received a suspicious letter or package. The following characteristics can be indicative of wrong-doing:

- Packages wrapped in string are automatically suspicious, as modern packaging materials have eliminated the need for twine or string
- Leaks, oily stains, or protruding wires, string, tape, etc.

Postage

- Excess postage on small packages or letters (indicating that the object was not weighed by the Post Office)
- No postage or non-canceled postage

Labeling

- No return address or nonsensical return address
- Any foreign writing, addresses, or postage
- Handwritten notes, such as: "To Be Opened in the Privacy of," "CONFIDENTIAL", etc.

Golf Cart Operation and Safety Training is recommended for all University staff, faculty, and students who operate a golf or electric cart on campus. Everyone must abide by the cart rules and regulations in Administrative Guide 8.4.2: “Vehicle Use” and at http://transportation.stanford.edu/parking_info/carts.shtml. Failure to adhere to these policies may result in disciplinary action or loss of access privileges. Register for the online Cart Safety Course and Test (“PTS-1000-WEB”) through STARS. Additional questions concerning cart operation and safety may be directed to SUDPS and P&TS.

Stanford University’s Central Pedestrian Zone exists to minimize the disruption of university activities from unnecessary vehicular traffic. All vehicles, including motorized carts and motorized wheeled devices, must acquire and display the appropriate PZ permit while moving through or parking in the pedestrian zone. Learn more at: http://transportation.stanford.edu/parking_info/pedzone.shtml.

Motorized Mopeds, Scooters & Motorcycles are not allowed in the Central Pedestrian Zone. Citations will be issued to any such vehicle parked in White Plaza, the Quad, or in any sidewalk, landscaped area, or bike rack. Operators must wear helmets and be licensed to operate these vehicles. These vehicles must be registered with the Department of Motor Vehicles and have a parking permit from P&TS.

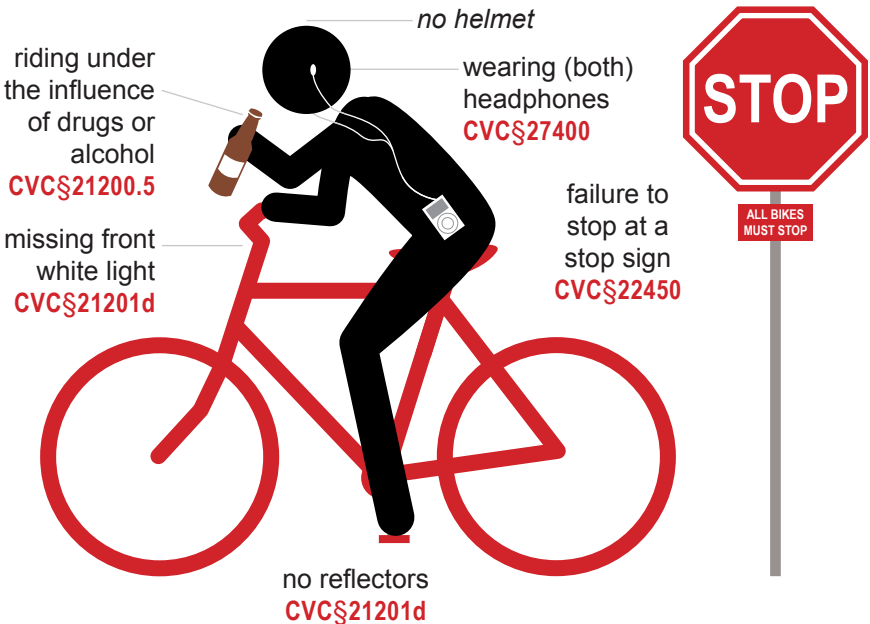

Skateboards are not permitted in most areas of campus (refer to Santa Clara County Ordinance B5-30, Chapter III).

In-line & Roller Skates use is restricted by Santa Clara County Ordinances B5-33 and B5-34. Skates may not be used on or within any building, courtyard, parking garage, entryway, tennis court, construction site, or stairway, railing, wall, fountain, bench, or any other outdoor structure or finishing not intended for travel.

Bike Safety

According to the California Vehicle Code, every person riding a bicycle upon a street or highway has all of the rights and responsibilities as a driver of a motor vehicle:

- ▶ Stop at stop signs
- ▶ Do not ride on the wrong side of the road
- ▶ Do not wear headphones while riding (1 ear must be uncovered)
- ▶ Have legal brakes
- ▶ Use proper lights on your bike at night
- ▶ Yield to pedestrians
- ▶ Do not ride your bike under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs

The Bike Diversion Program offers recipients of bicycle citations issued by Stanford DPS personnel on the Stanford campus the option to attend a 1-hour bike safety class once every 18 months in lieu of paying for a bicycle citation. Individuals must register for the course within 30 days of receipt of the citation. There have been 3,576 attendees across 100 classes since the program began in 2008. Register online at: <http://www.stanford.edu/group/SUDPS/cgi-bin/diversion.php>.

Wear a Helmet to greatly reduce the risk of head injury or death! Parking & Transportation Services offers helmets for $20 — and SUDPS offers an additional $10 helmet voucher for bike safety class attendees.

Park Bikes at bicycle racks and not in a way that obstructs railings, handicapped zones, ramps, pathways, dumpsters, stairs, entrances, door-opening buttons, or traffic thoroughfares. Bikes parked illegally will be impounded by SUDPS.

Lock Bikes with a high quality U-lock through the frame and at least the front wheel. Do not leave a bike locked only to itself.

Report Suspicious Activity or Bike Theft in Progress

by calling 911. Give the dispatcher the time and location of the incident and a description of the suspect(s). To report a stolen bike, immediately call (650) 723-9633 and be prepared to provide the registration number, serial number, make, model, size, and color of the bike.

Bicycle Registration is required by Stanford University Traffic and Parking Code, Section 7.1.1 for all bicycles used on campus. Registration at P&TS costs $3.50 and lasts for three years. Licensing helps reunite impounded or recovered stolen bikes with their owners.

Annual Bike Safety Promotions educate riders on bicycling laws, encourage helmet use, and distribute safety resources including free bike lights with bicycle registration. Efforts have included the Bike Safety Dorm Challenge, annual Bike Safety Pledge, Bike to Work Day, and Helmet Hook-Up Day.

Bike Safety Repair Stands enable bicyclists to make minor repairs and pump up their tires for free. Multiple tools are securely fastened to the rack, which also serves as bike stand.

Bike Safety Stations are hosted most Friday's during the school year in White Plaza, and include on-site bike registration, free maintenance resources, and skills classes.

Additional Resources can be found at <http://bike.stanford.edu>.

The Jeanne Clery Act and Higher Education Act

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Crime Statistics Act and the Higher Education Act provide that campus communities receive an annual Safety, Security and Fire Report containing crime statistic information and important safety policies. The statistical information contained within this report allows members of the campus community to be informed about criminal activity occurring within and immediately surrounding the geographical boundaries of the campus and any related buildings owned or operated by the University. Of equal importance are the safety policies and guidance contained within this report, which allows individuals to make informed decisions about their own personal safety and to enhance the safety of the community through their actions.

How Statistics Are Obtained

The Stanford University Department of Public Safety (SUDPS) gathers statistical crime data from its own records and from information provided by the Office of the Vice Provost for Student Affairs and other designated Campus Security Authorities (CSAs). CSAs, as defined by the Clery Act, include:

- Security officers
- Deans (or other senior student administrative personnel)
- Athletic coaches
- Residence hall staff
- Overseers and advisors to student clubs and organizations
- Other campus officials who have “significant responsibility for student and campus activities” such as:
 - Student housing
 - Student discipline
 - Campus judicial proceedings

CSAs are expected to notify the SUDPS Clery Compliance Coordinator (CCC) of Clery reportable crimes by e-mail, phone, or in person.

CSAs provide basic information about incidents to the CCC so that incidents can be properly categorized and counted. CSAs do not share legally protected confidential information with the CCC without the permission of the involved parties unless state or federal law mandates such notification (such as mandated child abuse reporting laws).

Professional and pastoral counselors are exempt from the CSA reporting requirements while working within the scope of a license or certification. As a matter of university policy, they are encouraged to inform persons being counseled of the procedures to report crimes on a voluntary, confidential basis for inclusion into the annual crime statistics.

Because they have local jurisdiction over some University locations, the Santa Clara County Sheriff's Office, the San Mateo County Sheriff's Office, the Palo Alto Police Department, and other law enforcement agencies are asked to provide Clery reportable crime statistics for the required geographical areas. University officials at each of the branch campuses, including the overseas programs, gather the required crime statistics from their own records and from local law enforcement agencies. The branch campuses, including the overseas programs, statistics are then forwarded to SUDPS. As required by federal law, SUDPS reports this information on an annual basis to the United States Department of Education, Office of Postsecondary Education.

The Stanford University Fire Marshal's Office (SUFMO) gathers statistics on fires that occur in on-campus student residences from its own records and from information provided by the Palo Alto Fire Department. The Menlo Park Fire Protection District provides fire and emergency medical response to the SLAC National Accelerator Laboratory.

Timely Warnings Procedure

As required by law, timely warnings will be distributed to the entire University community when a Clery reportable crime occurs on campus or in an area surrounding the campus and is determined by the Chief of Police or her designee or other senior level University official that the situation poses an immediate or ongoing threat to the community.

A warning that could jeopardize a criminal investigation will not be distributed. The amount and type of information presented in the warning will vary depending on the circumstances of the crime. Significant criminal incidents that might elicit a timely warning include, but are not limited to, crimes of violence or patterns of property crimes.

The purpose of the warning is to aid in the prevention of similar crimes by alerting the community about the incident and providing information on precautions people can take to enhance their personal safety. The method used to issue a timely warning will depend on the nature of the incident. Possible modes of communication can be found on page 13.

¹The Student Residence category is a subset of the On Campus category. If a sexual assault occurred in a student dorm, it would be counted once under Student Residence and once under On Campus. The "Total" column includes the On Campus, Non-Campus, and Public Property categories combined. Every attempt is made to count crimes only once in this report. SUDPS strongly urges all victims of crime to notify the police.

^{2, 3, 4} Statistics for bicycle theft, domestic violence, and stalking (as defined by California State Law) are being voluntarily tracked by Stanford University as of 2009.

About the Stanford University Fire Marshal's Office

Stanford University is subject to numerous codes and standards which regulate the design, construction and use of buildings with the intent of preventing fires and protecting life and property. Governing jurisdictions include the cities of Palo Alto, Menlo Park, Redwood City, Newark, and Pacific Grove, the counties of San Mateo and Santa Clara as well as the Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development \(OSHPD\). The primary goals of the Stanford University Fire Marshal's Office (SUFMO) are to:

- Support Stanford's core mission of teaching, learning, and researching by effecting institutional compliance with fire codes and regulations.
- Work strategically with external agencies to achieve equitable interpretation and application of codes to minimize undue constraints on the operational efficiency.
- Ensure that a high level of fire protection is afforded to the Stanford community.

SUFMO Personnel & Outreach Programs

SUFMO's 21 employees serve the main campus, the School of Medicine, and the Hopkins Marine Station. The Fire Extinguisher Technicians provide fire extinguisher services for the University and the SLAC National Accelerator Laboratory.

- Fire extinguisher training is available quarterly free of charge to all faculty and staff.
- Student housing evacuation drills are scheduled during each academic quarter.
- Building evacuation drills are scheduled monthly with the six on campus children's day care centers and an annual drill is scheduled for the Hoover Tower high rise.

All campus buildings are encouraged to conduct evacuation drills annually.

Most fire safety training is offered during the fall quarter. SUFMO trains Undergraduate Housing Resident Assistants and Graduate Housing Community Assistants due to their roles as student safety leaders. Fire safety training is also incorporated into student event Party Planning Workshops coordinated by the Student Activities and Leadership office. Individual departments are encouraged to request speakers from the Fire Marshal's Office to address faculty and staff on fire safe practices in the workplace.

Housing Fire Policies can be found in the Residence Agreement:
http://www.stanford.edu/dept/rde/shs/pdfs/2011_12_RA.pdf

Candles, torches, hookahs, incense, and any other open flame devices are strictly prohibited in and around the residences because of the risk they pose to life and property.

Appliances with open heating elements, such as hot plates and toasters, are not allowed in student rooms.* Cooking is only permitted in designated kitchens and kitchenettes. Never leave anything on the stove unattended, especially oil!

Halogen lamps are strictly prohibited in University housing because of fire hazard concerns and high energy usage.

Barbecue grills of any kind, propane cylinders, charcoal, or starter fluids are not allowed inside residences, on balconies or decks, or in stairwells.

Holiday trees and decorations must be treated with a flame-retardant solution or process approved by the State Fire Marshal. Call SUFMO Fire Protection Services at 725-2129 for more information. Holiday fire safety information can be found at:

Fire Safety Improvements

Fire Sprinkler Retrofit in Science and Research Buildings

The University recognizes the value of and need to protect our science and research buildings and contents. Through the strong advocacy of the University Fire Marshal to promote the installation of automatic sprinkler systems, currently 97% of the overall science and research building floor spaces have sprinklers. Sprinkler retrofit of Building 02-524 has been completed. Paul Allen Building (04-050) has also been fully sprinklered. Building 02-520 will be retrofitted with sprinklers by 2014.

Fire Alarm System Replacements

Over the past two years, automatic fire alarm systems in five campus Student Housing facilities have been replaced. Two additional Student Housing facilities will have the automatic fire alarm systems replaced in the next two years. Also, automatic fire alarm system replacements have been completed in a total of thirteen non-Student Housing facilities over the past two years with five additional ones to be completed in the next two years.

Fire Sprinkler Retrofit in Graduate Dorms

Stanford has made a commitment to install automatic fire sprinkler systems in graduate housing facilities. Two highrise and four midrise buildings are not fully sprinklered. Stanford plans to complete the sprinkler installation in these facilities in the future. One midrise (Abrams) was sprinklered in 2011. Currently, another midrise (McFarland) is being sprinklered.

McFarland midrise will be fully sprinklered by the end of summer 2013

One midrise (Abrams) was sprinklered in 2011. Currently, another midrise (McFarland) is being sprinklered.
